

NJCSA Conference: Excellence, Equity & Innovation October 15, 2019 - Call for Proposals

The New Jersey Charter Schools Association is accepting conference session proposals from educators, school administrators, and professional development providers who can present high quality professional development to charter school teachers, administrators and trustees. What practice are you most proud of that you would like to share? What can you share that will help other teachers and/or administrators grow professionally? What practices are innovative? Improve academic achievement? Build culture? Improve teaching and learning?

We strongly encourage charter school administrators, teachers, and staff to consider using this opportunity to share their best practices and innovations!
